

EVIE ORPE

Location: Auckland

Evie Orpe is a comedian, MC, actor and content creator from Lower Hutt, known for her sharp humour, smart observations and very current take on culture, news and everyday life.

A 2024 Raw Comedy Quest finalist, Evie brings a strong comedy voice to everything she creates. Her content blends social commentary, storytelling, character, humour and a slightly chaotic charm, making complex or serious topics feel accessible, funny and easy to engage with.

Evie is the creator and host of Dangerously Informed with Evie, an online platform where she brings personality, wit and curiosity to current events and the world around us. With a natural ability to turn cultural moments, news stories and modern life into entertaining content, Evie connects with audiences through humour that feels intelligent, relatable and fresh.

Her live comedy background gives her excellent timing, confidence and presence on camera, while her MC and performance work make her a natural fit for hosted content, brand campaigns, social video, interviews, vox pops and short form storytelling.

Evie is well suited to brands and projects looking for a clever, funny and engaging creator who can bring energy, opinion and originality to content without losing warmth or authenticity.
